THE BUCKLEY AMENDMENT

We call your attention to a new federal law which changes in many ways the manner in which student records have traditionally been handled. The Act in Public Law 93-380, The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, better known as The Buckley Amendment. It became law on August 21, 1974, and its provisions effective on November 19.

Quoting Alfred B. Fitt, the special adviser at Yale University:

The text of the amendment presents unusually difficult problems of interpretation. Some of the language is sufficiently obscure to preclude any confident conclusion as to its me aning. Other parts are crystal clear but lead to conclusions which could scarcely have been intended by the Congress.

Daniel Steiner, general counsel of Harvard University commented:

I think this is the most disturbing piece of legislation that has come out of Congress in many years. There were no opportunities for students, faculty, administrators or other university officials to be heard on problems that directly affect them.

The main intent of the act appears to have been the elimination of secrecy and the assurance of accuracy of student records. The problems created by the act may not have been intended, but legal interpretations persuade us that there are a number of changes which will unduly inconvenience students, their pareots, prospective employers and graduate schools, not to mention our own registrar.

To add to the confusion, it appears that guidelines from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will oot be forthcoming before next spring, if then.

In the meantime, colleges and universities will have to attempt to obey the law. This will mean.

I. All records and confidential evaluations of student performance will be subject to the inspection of the student within 45 days of the request. Under such circumstances, many persons will he reluctant to write letters of recommendation. Even if they did, prospective employers, graduate and professional schools would place little credence in them, knowing they may not be confidential.

- 2. We can no longer furnish any information (including grade reports, letters of probation or dismissal, and semester bills) to parents without the written consent of their sons or daughters. We are forced to deal directly with the student, who may or may not keep parents fully informed. The administrative impracticability of getting each student's individual consent to the mailing of 1500 grade reports or semester bills to his parents is obvious. We hope, of course, that students will keep parents informed and will accept the responsibility for meeting financial and other obligations on time.
- 3. Students who want their transcripts sent to prospective employers or to other educational institutions will have to make the request in person (with identification required) or by outarized written request affirming the writer's identity and the name and address to which copies are to he sent. Phone call requests for transcript simply cannot be complied with, even when deadlines are involved.
- 4. The law apparently does not apply to any except attending studenta—those currently enrolled. Alumni or those who have dropped out of college would not be affected as we understand it.

While some may applaud the philosophy and intent of the new law, we feel that it may create more problems than it solves. We trust that the Congress will recognize the administrative difficulties confronting all concerned and will modify certain provisions of the act before another year rolls around.

TALK ABOUT INFLATION!

In 1939, Clarke Building (Chapel) was constructed for $140,000. Add $56,000 for equipment and furnishings for a total of $196,000-that is what a beautiful new building ready for use cost in 1939.

Recent (1973-74) renovations and new equipment cost approximately $180,000!

Those of us who are older know that not all of the "good old days" were that good. But our nervous systems sort things out and we remember and cherish the people, events, places and things that had special meaning and significance for us.

With this thought in mind, we decided to dig

With this thought in mind, we decided to dig out some Christmas and winter photographs for our front page. Many of our alumni will remember them for their heauty, their associations-or maybe just hecause it was cold and wintry.

WINTER SPORTS GET UNDERWAY

BASKETBALL

It took only a brief study of the 1974-75 basketball roster to prove that Coach Dutch Burch was not just "whistling a coach's sad tune" when he indicated this would be a rebuilding year for the Warriors.

His observation was substantiated by both a study of the roster and the subsequent starting lineup for the first game of the season.

When the Warriors ran onto the court to meet Navy at Annapolis in the first contest of the season, only John DiMarco, a junior guard and team captain, remained from the starting five that last year led the Warriors to the regular season Middle Atlantic Conference championship with an 8-2 league record. Gone were All-America Rich Henninger, the school's career scoring record holder with 2,203 points, along with veterans Steve Cogan, Tom Beamer and Jim Kelley.

Replacing the departed seniors in the 79-59 loss to Navy were Dennis Schmidt, a junior, and Jeff Billman, a sophomore, both of whom have seen limited varsity action last year, and two freshmen, Bill Conroy, and Jim DiMarco, brother of John. Billman and Conroy are the tallest men on the squad at 6-6. Schmidt is 6-2, John DiMarco, 6-0, and Jim DiMarco, 5-10.

The remainder of the varsity roster contains one junior, five sophomores, and two freshmen, with only two, Steve Serbun, a 6-4 junior, and Jim Coyle, a 6-5 sophomore, having seen any previous varsity action.

The obvious lack of experience among players on the varsity roster will make the task of defending the conference championship a most difficult assignment for the Warriors, and Coach Burch would probably settle for a .500 season.

WRESTLING

Over on the Warrior wrestling scene, Coach Budd Whitehill could be singing the same tune. The pre-season roster was top-heavy with freshmen, with 21 first-year grapplers, 8 sophomores, 3 juniors, and 3 seniors. However, seven of the upperclassmen on the roster did compete regularly last year in different weight classes when the Warriors compiled a fine record of 13-6-1, Lettermen returning in weight classes from 134 to 190 included Gary Felthousen, 134; Jim Mathews, 142; Lloyd Reiter, 150; Craig Savitsky, 158; Terry Shultz, 167; Dan Hartranft, 177, and Randy Parsons, 190. Most had winning records last year in varsity competition.

BRUCE L. SWANGER

The tough Warrior schedule this year includes such major university and small college wrestling powerhouses as Maryland, Indiana State at Terre Haute, Temple, Princeton, Rider, Army, Lafayette, Delaware, Wilkes, West Chester, Montclair State, and others.

SWIMMING

A new coach who will have the dual responsibility for both the Number I and Number II
Warrior swimming teams also faced a task of rebuilding, particularly on Team II. Steven K. Muthler, a member of the Lycoming mermen as an undergraduate, replaced Jeffrey Rauff as coach of Team II and Mrs. Donna Miller as coach of Team I, with only three lettermen returning from the first and five from the latter squad.

Muthler will have lettermen Greg Bowers, Geoffrey Forester, and Mike Shissler forming the nucleus for the Number II team, a squad which competes against men's teams from other colleges. Letter winners returning on the Number I team for competition against women's teams from other colleges include Nancy Colby, Beth Goodyear, Debbie Harrison, Vicki Nirmaier, and Ellen Sharkey.
